Tour of Harbor Point:

At 9:00 a.m. John Freeman of Building & Land Technology met the Economic Development Commissioners at the Clearwater Office and gave them a guided tour of the Harbor Point project.

From the rooftop of the building, the 2 commercial buildings were in clear view and another high rise structure that will provide 337 residential units for rental; that includes 10% affordable housing;

Next, the commissioners followed by car to view the project site of the Fairway grocery store currently in construction with an expected completion date by next Fall 2010. The grocery store will provide at least 500 new jobs to Stamford; The old Yale and Town building will have 2 additional buildings with units for residential housing; in addition there will be a hotel built on this 7 acre site all, of which will bring a new community together.

The tour was completed at 10:00 a.m. at which time the meeting adjourned.
